REVOLT AGAINST HITLER AND HIGH COMMAND CONTINUES DESPITE WORD FROM BERLIN UPRISINGS QUELLED

Rumors Spread That Hitler is More Gravely Injured Than Officially Admitted — Claim Disaffection Which Began Among Army Forces Has Spread To Navy — Berlin and Rest of Germany Remain Cut Off from Communication.

By Charles A. Smith
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, July 22—Amid rumors of mounting disaffection in the German army and navy, Adolf Hitler issued a special order of the day to his troops today, renewing his charge that "unscrupulous" officers had made an attempt upon his life. He further alleged that the alleged attempt had as its object complete elimination of the general staff and formation of an anti-Nazi government.

As broadcast by DNB, the order said: "Soldiers of the army: A small circle of unscrupulous officers has made an attempt to murder me and the general staff and seize power in the state.

"Providence caused the attempt to miscarry. By immediate and vigorous action by loyal officers and men of the army at home, the traitor clique was wiped out or arrested."

The 64-year-old Koiso heads a new cabinet in which Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai is minister of the navy. The Japanese agency Domei had previously announced that the two men would be joint premiers.

The cabinet was listed by the Japanese agency as follows:

Foreign Minister and Greater East Asia Minister—Mamoru Shigemitsu.

Minister of War—Field Marshal Gen. Sugiyama.

Navy Minister—Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai.

Minister of Home Affairs—Shigeo Odachi.

Finance Minister—Sotaro Ishiwata.

Minister of Justice—Hiromasa Matsuzaka.

Minister of Education—Harushige Niimiya.

Munitions Minister—Ginjiro Fujiwara.

Minister of Agriculture and Commerce—Toshio Shimada.

Minister of Transportation and Communications—Yonezo Maeda.

Minister of State Affairs—Chuji Machida.

Hideo Kodama and Takekazu Yamagata.

Formation of the new cabinet ended the crisis that arose five days ago—a crisis that was preceded by the removal of Admiral Shigetaro Shimada as navy minister, included the replacement of Gen. Tojo as Army chief of staff and culminated in the resignation of the entire Tojo cabinet.

TRUMAN SELECTED BY DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Vice-Pres't Wallace Loses In Contest for Vice-Presidential Renomination

WALLACE UNDAUNTED

By William K. Hutchinson
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, July 22—(INS)—President Roosevelt has Senator Harry S. Truman, of Missouri, as a running-mate today to seek a fourth term against the Republican ticket of Dewey and Bricker in the first wartime presidential campaign since Abraham Lincoln's era.

Truman gained the vice presidential nomination at the Democratic National Convention in an unprecedented manner, by actually winning after the second roll-call was completed.

There was one major significance to Truman's victory. It marked the utter rout of the CIO labor leaders.

Bucks Co. Nurse Served For 25 Months Overseas

In the course of her 18 months in New Guinea, as a member of the Army Nurse Corps, 2nd Lt. Ellen M. Ashbridge, formerly of Holicong and Doylestown, who is home on leave, attended hundreds of patients from forward areas and combat zones. She has been assigned to a station hospital constructed primarily by its own personnel and completed shortly after the fall of Buna.

Lt. Ashbridge recalls her first hectic months on the tropical island beginning in December, 1942. Upon arrival, the Medical Department group composing her unit selected a site for the hospital and immediately transformed themselves into contractors, carpenters and bricklayers. Confronted by the urgency for haste imposed by heavy casualties at Buna, they completed buildings in time to be caring for patients on Christmas Day. These first few patients were the beginning of hundreds who entered the hospital in ensuing weeks, requiring Medical Corps Officers, Nurses and Enlisted men to work feverishly for long hours.

During the first half of 1943 the organization survived several enemy air raids. On May 12th, 1943, 100 Japanese planes attacked, their bombs barely missing the hospital area. Today the hospital operates in comparative peace.

Lt. Ashbridge joined the Station Hospital at Camp Claiborne, La., in May, 1942. In the same month she was crossing the Pacific in a large American liner converted into a troop transport. Arriving in Australia in June, she was on the Australian mainland for six months before her unit moved to New Guinea. Twenty-five of her 27 months on active duty have been spent overseas.

Born in Doylestown, Lt. Ashbridge is a graduate of New Hope high school, and Abington Memorial Hospital School of Nursing.

Middletown Grange Is Planning For A Picnic

NEWTOWN, July 22—Thirty-five members of Middletown Grange attended a session of that organization held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Kirk, near here, on Wednesday evening.

Overseer Stanley Twining was in charge of the business meeting, with Mrs. Charles Lowmes, lecturer, presenting the entertainment program.

During the business session the Grange decided to hold a picnic in the near future in the meadow on the farm of John Thompson. A basket lunch will be served at noon.

Opening the literary program, Mrs. Lowmes gave an account of a community housing project in the vicinity of Feasterville, following which Dr. H. C. Terry told a number of jokes.

R. Walker Jackson gave a talk on the eradication of obnoxious weeds. He spoke particularly of methods of destroying the wild morning glory and the Canada thistle. "Hilbilly" selections were played on the guitar by Edward Campbell, George School.

At the close of the meeting the hosts served watermelon.

The next meeting of the Grange will be held in the Memorial house in Langhorne on Wednesday evening, August 2nd. The program for that occasion has not as yet been arranged.

"E" Series Bond Sales In This Area Are Lagging

Although Bristol and Bensalem areas were "over the top" by July 10th as far as dollars and cents are concerned in the Fifth War Loan Drive, the sale of "E" series bonds lagged.

The workers in the areas were able to meet their quotas because of large sales of bonds to industrial concerns, Mrs. John Leslie Kilcoyne, chairman, announces, but inasmuch as a quota is also given for the "E" series, the workers are desirous of bringing this type of sales up to the desired total.

They plan to start down the "home stretch" on Monday, and end the drive successfully as far as "E" bonds are concerned, by July 29th.

Volunteer members of the committee are remaining on the job for the sales period, and hope for increased sales to individuals. Headquarters at the McCrory store will also remain at the service of the public.

THE DEBT

How the United States plans to handle its war debt has not been announced by Governor Dewey or by the administration in Washington. Britain's approach to the problem is clearer.

In Britain the national debt has topped $80,000,000,000 and it is expected to reach $100,000,000,000 before the war ends. At present interest rates, that will entail an annual debt service charge of $2,000,000,000 to $3,000,000,000.

This compares with an anticipated United States debt of approximately $300,000,000,000 and an interest charge of $7,000,000,000.

Since more than half of Britain's debt has been incurred during the war on a short term basis and will mature within the next ten years, the London government expects to maintain a cheap money policy for some time. Cheap money and a high national income are expected to steer Britain past the debt crisis.

In this country no one has spoken plainly about this problem except Vice-President Wallace. Wallace regards the government debt as a blessing in disguise. He says this nation can hold the national income up to $130,000,000,000 annually through the exercise of government controls over business and industry and through continuation of a cheap money policy. Then, he says, the country could service the huge debt and still have more money left over than Americans enjoyed in the boom years of 1928 and 1929.

PRECEDENT

Raymond Moley recalls that no one has mentioned an election precedent established by South Dakota in 1912. He believes it to be relevant in the case of Texas, Mississippi and South Carolina, now threatening to take their electoral votes off the Democratic reservation this year.

In May, 1912, Theodore Roosevelt, Senator La Follette and President Taft ran in the Presidential primary of South Dakota. T. R. won. In June the delegates selected in the South Dakota primary and pledged to T. R. bolted the Republican convention. Later they helped nominate T. R. in the rump convention.

Before the election the South Dakota electors on the Republican ticket announced that they would, if elected, refuse to vote for Taft but would cast the electoral vote of the state for Roosevelt. After their election, they carried out their plan.

Chosen by the voters as Republican electors, they refused to be bound by the nomination of their party.

Names of the candidates for President did not appear on the South Dakota ballot, only the names of the party electors. Therefore the voters could vote only for the electors, and the electors voted as they pleased.

The Nazis will always be able to boast that in the final days of the war they killed many civilians with buzzbombs.

This Month's STAR RECIPE

By BETTY BARCLAY

Fresh fish require no points. Neither do milk, onion, lemon juice, or eggs. So a fish recipe can be pleasing to our ration book. It gives us a new way to serve our no-point fish, and bolsters the no-point, low-point program with a nutritious tasty.

The fish dish that has been chosen as this month's "Star" recipe is unique — it's baked in individual molds, attractive enough for company dinners. Try the recipe below and decide for yourself whether or not we have chosen wisely.

Baked Fish Molds

3 cups Post Toasties, finely crushed
1½ cups milk
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1½ tablespoons chopped chives or minced onion
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon thyme
1½ teaspoons salt
Dash of pepper
2 cups cooked fish, flaked and chopped

2 eggs, well beaten.
Combine Post Toasties and milk; let stand 10 minutes. Add mayonnaise, parsley, chives, lemon juice, and seasonings and mix thoroughly. Then add fish and eggs and mix well. Turn into well greased molds or custard cups. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 35 to 45 minutes, depending upon size of molds. Serve with mustard sauce, made by adding 1 tablespoon prepared mustard to 2 cups white sauce. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

THE CAPITOL WHIRL

A Digest of Things Political Occurring At Harrisburg

By International News Service HARRISBURG, July 22 (INS) —

The political makeup of the State House of Representatives following the general election November 7 probably will shape Gov. Edward Martin's legislative program and policies for the remainder of his term. . . . An ambitious postwar program has been advanced by the Martin administration but a rebellious Assembly could force sharp revisions. . . . If President Roosevelt sweeps Pennsylvania in the election, the Democrats in all probability will gain control of the lower house and be in a position to present a legislative and postwar program of their own choosing. . . . The Republicans currently control the House 131 to 76 with one vacancy.

In the Senate, the Democrats have admitted they stand little chance of winning control because most of the seats at stake this year are in counties that rarely stray from the Republican column. . . . Thus, GOP Assembly leaders could pilot measures through the upper chamber but would have to bargain to push any semblance of the administration's program through the House. Democrats, being in the same legislative boat, would be forced to trade. . . . Republicans control the Senate 32 to 17 with one vacancy.

When the first touch of frost nips Pennsylvania, Highway Department officials warn scarily weather reports for signs of approaching snow storms and cross their fingers as they hope for a mild winter.

Few Pennsylvania motorists realize the extent of the program the Department undertakes to assure the best possible winter driving conditions. . . . Usually, $4,000,000 is earmarked for the program but expenditures depend entirely upon the severity of the winter. . . . During the winter of 1935-36, the Department spent $5,771,000 to keep highways free of snow and reasonably clear of ice. . . . In 1936-37, expenditures totaled $2,969,000 and the next winter—1937-38—the amount jumped to $3,519,000. . . . In 1938-39, total snowfall was high and $4,894,000 was necessary to assure highway safety and expenses dropped to $4,379,000 in the winter of 1939-40. . . . Winter maintenance cost $4,640,600 in 1940-41 and $3,706,000 in 1941-42 while in 1942-43 the amount was $4,395,000. . . . The last winter cost $3,570,000 for snow removal.

BIGLERVILLE — (INS) — Crist Shank observed his eighty-third birthday anniversary the same as he has spent most of his other birthdays—putting up hay. Despite his advanced age, he works every day on a nearby farm.

BROOKLINE — (INS) — He had to go for days in the same uniform and without a bath to get it, but Capt. Herbert W. Clegg wrote that German beer is the best he's tasted in years. In a fort captured outside of Cherbourg, his company found many cases of beer left by fleeing Nazis.

Today's Quiet Moment By the Rev. Arthur D. Sargis Pastor Eddington Presbyterian Church Eddington

O Thou great Shepherd of Israel, Who, by Thine outstretched arm, didst bring Thy people of old out of the land of Egypt and the house of bondage, guiding them safely through the wilderness to the promised land; we pray Thee to deliver us from the bondage of our sins, and so to lead us through the wilderness of this world, feeding us with bread from heaven, and with water out of the smitten rock, and upholding us amid the swellings of Jordan, that we may enter at last into that rest which remaineth for Thy faithful people. In Jesus' name we sincerely pray. Amen.

REMEDY FOR SUMMER DAMPNESS IN CELLAR IS MORE VENTILATION

By Mary Jacoby Fleetham
(Home Economics Representative)
Mysterious "summer leaks" that cause damp walls and wet floors in cellars in warm, humid weather but not at other times of year are generally not leaks at all but condensation of moisture from the air. When warm, moist air from outside hits the colder cellar walls, the moisture condenses on walls and floor, just as when a cloud of floating moisture vapor strikes cold air and condenses as rain.

The remedy for dampness of this kind is more ventilation, because moisture does not settle when air is kept moving. The time to air out the cellar is on cool nights or whenever the air outdoors is cooler than in the cellar. On days when the outdoor air is warmer, keep the cellar closed. If air circulates through the cellar in paths and leaves damp corners unventilated, an electric fan will help.

Condensation also causes cold pipes to drip in warm weather.

This may be prevented by wrapping the pipes so that the warm air does not come in contact with their cold surface. Commercial pipe insulation may be purchased in handy lengths that may be clipped around pipes.

ROSSI'S FAST BALL ZIPS FLEETWINGS; ALLOWS 10 HITS

American Bridge Nine Wins By the Score of 5 to 1

SUPPORT ROSSI WELL

Budd Handles 14 Chances Without An Error

At Rossi's fast ball zipped by the Fleetwings batters last evening on the Bristol high school field as the American Steel nine moved closer to first place in the Trenton Industrial League by beating the Wing-cars, 5-1.

Although solved for 10 hits, Rossi, not the pressure on in the pinches and kept the localites away from the plate in all frames with the exception of the seventh when a walk to DeRisi and hits by Leone and Dougherty scored the lone tally.

Rossi was aided by wonderful fielding both on the part of Budd and Pete Rossi, the keystone combination. Budd handled fourteen chances without an error while in five chances P. Rossi made one bobbie. The pair also killed two attempted Fleetwings rallies with fast double-plays.

"Jim" Plunkett, catcher of the visitors, opened the second inning with a home run to left field and before the frame was over, the second run came over on hits by P. Rossi, Gledlin, and A. Rossi. McGowan drove in two runs in the third with a single to left while a hit by Gledlin, an error and Mike Rossi's bingle scored the final tally.

Revolt Against Hitler And High Command Continues

in a matter of a few hours. I expected nothing else. I know that as hitherto you will fight with exemplary obedience and loyalty until victory is ours in spite of all."

The revolt of German military leaders against Adolf Hitler and his Nazi high command appeared to be continuing today despite protestations from Berlin that the uprising had been quelled, and rumors were spread that Hitler himself had been more gravely injured in the attempt on his life than was officially admitted.

Reports also were widespread that the disaffection which began among army forces had spread to the German navy.

Radio Algiers quoted reports from Basle, Switzerland, saying it was generally believed that naval units at the German naval bases of Kiel and Stettin had rebelled.

While the whole situation remained obscure and the outside world had little other than Nazi accounts of what actually has taken place, Berlin and the rest of Germany remained cut off from communication, indicating that the situation in the Reich still was serious and might yet develop into a widespread upheaval.

A wireless dispatch by the Nazi agency DNB, quoting Hitler's own newspaper, the Voelkischer Beobachter, indicated that calm had not been restored. It said that the appointment of Gestaapo chief Heinrich Himmler as chief of the army on the home front "guarantees that the task will be mastered." The Voelkischer Beobachter added that "attempts at plots will be impossible in the future."

Berlin quarters stated that all of the alleged traitors had been arrested six hours after the attempt was made to kill Hitler and de-

VOLTZ LOSES HOPE OF FINISHING IN THE LEAGUE PLAYOFFS

Bristol Nine Loses To The Eastern Aircraft in Game On Wetzel's Field

FINAL SCORE IS 9 TO 1

Slants of Tony Rubino Too Much for The Bristol Boys

TRENTON, N. J., July 22.—The Voltz-Texaco team's hopes of finishing in the play-offs of the Trenton Industrial League received a jolt last evening when the Eastern Aircraft nine downed the gasoleers, 9-1, on Wetzel field.

The slants of Tony Rubino was too much for the Bristol boys as he held them to five scattered bingles. The only marker scored by the Voltz-men was the result of an error by Giovacchino.

Hal Shackleton did the burling for the losers and was touched for nine hits. Hal started off on the wrong foot when the Eastern team bunched, hits, errors, and walks for a quartet of tallies in the first inning.

Conglis led the hitters of the contest by getting three out of four while in two official trips, Rubino had two for two. Mickey Mandio robbed Giovacchino of an extra base hit in the sixth when he made a sensational catch of his bid for a hit.

clared that no blood, except that of the conspirators was shed. Reports from Stockholm, however, said that many hundreds of Germany's best officers were executed in the purge ordered by Hitler and Gestaapo chief Heinrich Himmler.

The greatest centers of unrest, according to a dispatch to the London News Chronicle, were in East-ern Germany and East Prussia where previous accounts said the Germans were panicked by the swift advance of Soviet armies to ward the frontier.

who attempted to step into the Democratic party and control the convention. Defeat of the CIO leaders, however, may have repercussions in the election but the victorious regular party chieftains were unconcerned, declaring the labor groups would have to support Roosevelt because they had nowhere else to go.

Truman's smashing success marked the political demise of Vice President Henry Agard Wallace, idealist and humanitarian, who failed of nomination even after Mr. Roosevelt wrote of him: "I personally would vote for his renomination if I were a delegate to the convention." The regular Democrats made it plain there was no place for Wallace in their scheme of politics.

Truman was elated by his victory. His first remark was: "I'm about as dizzy as a pet coon. I am very happy." He said he would resign as chairman of the Senate War Fraud Investigating Committee and added that in the campaign:

"I shall do what the commander-in-chief wants me to do."

Wallace was undaunted in defeat. He asserted that in his race for renomination, "the cause of liberalism has been further advanced—my own personal defeat is not a loss of liberalism." Then, he declared:

"Roosevelt is the symbol of liberalism in the western world and he must be supported in the war and in the emergency of the peace to come."

There are a lot of Monday morning political quarterbacks roaming Chicago today trying to explain Wallace's defeat when he appeared to be a favorite in the convention and actually led on the first roll call. It is not sufficient to say that Truman's managers held back some votes because Wallace's managers did that too. Both gained on the second ballot and Truman was far from a winner when that roll call ended.

On the first ballot, Wallace had 429½ while Truman had 319½. At the end of the second roll call, Wallace had 460½ while Truman had 409 but seven states had passed. When these seven voted, Wallace had 473 and Truman 479. Then Senator John H. Bankhead, of Alabama, withdrew and that state gave Truman 22 more votes for a total of 501. That seemed to finish the roll call for certain.

But the chairman of the Maine delegation then arose and announced that his state would like to change its vote. He did so, changing the original tally of 4 votes for Wallace and six for Truman to one for Wallace and nine for Truman. That left the totals: Wallace 470 and Truman 504.

Maine's action was like a thunderbolt preceding a cloudburst. Perhaps it really was the "two lights in Boston tower" because an avalanche of switches followed. Paul V. McNutt, of Indiana, retired and his votes went to Truman, along with four of Wallace's in that state. Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, retired and eight more went to Truman. The District of Columbia, New York with 93 of its 96, Ohio with 45 of its 52 and finally West Virginia slid into Truman's column and he was the winner.

The final toll was Truman, 1,074; Wallace, 66; Gov. Prentice Cooper, of Tennessee, 26; William O. Douglas, of Connecticut, 4, and 6 delegates were recorded absent.

ed out by a flurry of heavy promises to the face and body. Mr. Roosevelt promised light wine and beer, promised that the old saloon would never return with its attendant evils, promised an end to the wasteful Hoover regime which had piled "bureau on bureau," and promised a balanced budget and ruthless curtailment of Government spending through sharp economies. But Hoover was an Al McCoy, or cheese champion, at best.

In 1936 Alf Landon was a sacrifice. The Republicans had nobody ready, but had to represent themselves to keep their identity and a skeleton organization. Mr. Landon was expendable. He was comparable to a small-town fighter who had been working star-nights for the Elks and Moose and has become a tri-country champion. The big fellow moved him around at will, waved to the crowd, and, when he was ready, knocked Mr. Landon in to the bass drum. It was what they call in the ring a tune-up fight. The champion needed a little work to get the belly off him.

F. D. R. Faces New Kind of Challenger

The 1940 thing was a rougher contest than the champion had expected. Mr. Willkie was a great, sweaty, shaggy lump who violated all the rules, led with his right, threw horrible swings which left him wide open but raised a wild when they whistled past and showed enormous strength like Firpo.

The trouble with the big clown was that, right there in the ring, against the champion, in a fight for the title, he developed a sudden admiration for the champion's style and tried to adopt it impromptu against a slippery master who had invented and practised those tricks to perfection.

Toward the end, therefore, when Roosevelt had studied him out, the champion could anticipate him and the customers saw an amazing illusion as of the champion fighting his own image in a big mirror. As time went on, the clientele had no great regret, for they reckoned that even had the challenger won they would have had for a new champion only an imitation of the old one.

Is this new young fellow any good? Can he punch? Is he fast? Is he smart? Is he game?

He is as good an orator as Mr. Roosevelt ever was and without the corny and patronizing familiarity of lemonade and a few oatmeal cookies fit in just right after a game of tennis, a swim or a dance.

To Make Lemonade

Allow 1 lemon for each person to be served. Extract juice and sweeten to taste with sugar or honey. Add chilled water or water and ice to fill a tall glass. Garnish, if liked, with mint, cherries or berries.

New Way To Make Lemonade

Another easy-to-serve lemonade idea is to squeeze enough lemon juice for several days. Sweeten this to taste and keep in a covered glass jar in the refrigerator. When you want lemonade, pour sweetened juice into a glass, add chilled water or water and ice and your healthful drink is ready to serve.

Lemon Oatmeal Cookies

Brown sugar and lemon juice and peel give special flavor to these cookies. You'll want to make a batch now and again for a boy in camp.

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 3/4 cup sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 2 1/2 cups quick or regular, uncooked rolled oats

Cream shortening, add sugars gradually and cream well. Beat in egg until light and fluffy, add lemon peel and juice. Sift flour, salt and soda together; add with rolled oats to creamed mixture. Drop from teaspoon onto greased baking sheet and bake in moderately hot oven (375° F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 3 dozen cookies.

He showed his punch when he out-fought Mr. Herbert Lehman for the Governorship of New York and lost by a phony decision delivered through the American Labor Party which had been organized to contain the Communist and other European vote and which is now frankly President Roosevelt's new Communist Party.

Next time around the kid flattened the Democratic nominee for Governor and, in these contests, and as a loyal party campaigner for the ingrate Willkie, he developed his style and broadened his experience to national range.

experience as Governor, which was all that Theodore Roosevelt had, and to the charge of excessive youth, he can reply that he is as old as Teddy was and older than F. D. R. when, in 1920, the latter considered himself old enough to be President had he and Jimmy Cox been elected and if Mr. Cox had died.

Some champions have thought themselves invincible and only Gene Tunney, himself, could imagine the opening scene in which he walked straight out and hit Jack Dempsey one gosh-almighty smash under the right eye to spin him so badly that he never recovered.

Terry McGovern thought of Young Corbett as just another sucker until the country boy beat on his dressing room door and yelled "come on out, Terry, and take your licking."

REVOLT AGAINST HITLER AND HIGH COMMAND CONTINUES DESPITE WORD FROM BERLIN UPRISINGS QUELLED

Rumors Spread That Hitler is More Gravely Injured Than Officially Admitted — Claim Disaffection Which Began Among Army Forces Has Spread To Navy — Berlin and Rest of Germany Remain Cut Off from Communication.

By Charles A. Smith
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, July 22.—Amid rumors of mounting disaffection in the German army and navy, Adolf Hitler issued a special order of the day to his troops today, renewing his charge that "unscrupulous" officers had made an attempt upon his life. He further alleged that the alleged attempt had as its object complete elimination of the general staff and formation of an anti-Nazi government.

As broadcast by DNB, the order said: "Soldiers of the army: A small circle of unscrupulous officers has made an attempt to murder me and the general staff and seize power in the state.

"Providence caused the attempt to miscarry. By immediate and vigorous action by loyal officers and men of the army at home, the traitor clique was wiped out or arrested."

Gen'l Kuniaki Koiso Is New Premier of Japan

By International News Service
Gen. Kuniaki Koiso, former governor general of Korea and one of the men appointed to select the new Japanese cabinet was announced today as the new premier of Japan.

The 64-year-old Koiso heads a new cabinet in which Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai is minister of the navy. The Japanese agency Domei had previously announced that the two men would be joint premiers.

Field Marshal Gen. Sugiyama returned to an important military role as minister of war, Domei said this morning in a wireless dispatch reported to the OWI by the Federal Communications Commission.

The cabinet was listed by the Japanese agency as follows:

Premier—Gen. Kuniaki Koiso.

Foreign Minister and Greater East Asia Minister—Mamoru Shigemitsu.

Minister of War—Field Marshal Gen. Sugiyama.

Navy Minister—Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai.

Minister of Home Affairs—Shigeo Odachi.

Finance Minister—Sotaro Ishiwata.

Minister of Justice—Hiromasa Matsuzaka.

Minister of Education—Harushige Niomiya.

Munitions Minister—Ginjiro Fujiwara.

Minister of Agriculture and Commerce—Toshio Shimada.

Minister of Transportation and Communications—Yonezo Maeda.

Minister of State Affairs—Chuji Machida, Hideo Kodama and Takekura Ogata.

Formation of the new cabinet ended the crisis that arose five days ago—a crisis that was preceded by the removal of Admiral Shigetaro Shimada as navy minister, included the replacement of Gen. Tojo as Army chief of staff and culminated in the resignation of the entire Tojo cabinet.

Middletown Grange Is Planning For A Picnic

NEWTOWN, July 22.—Thirty-five members of Middletown Grange attended a session of that organization held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Kirk, near here, on Wednesday evening.

Overseer Stanley Twining was in charge of the business meeting, with Mrs. Charles Lowmes, lecturer, presenting the entertainment program.

During the business session the Grange decided to hold a picnic in the near future in the meadow on the farm of John Thompson. A basket lunch will be served at noon.

Opening the literary program, Mrs. Lowmes gave an account of a community housing project in the vicinity of Feasterville, following which Dr. H. C. Terry told a number of jokes.

R. Walker Jackson gave a talk on the eradication of obnoxious weeds. He spoke particularly of methods of destroying the wild morning glory and the Canada thistle. "Hillbilly" selections were played on the guitar by Edward Campbell, George School.

At the close of the meeting the hosts served watermelon.

The next meeting of the Grange will be held in the Memorial house in Langhorne on Wednesday evening, August 2nd. The program for that occasion has not as yet been arranged.

"E" Series Bond Sales In This Area Are Lagging

Although Bristol and Bensalem areas were "over the top" by July 10th as far as dollars and cents are concerned in the Fifth War Loan Drive, the sale of "E" series bonds lagged.

The workers in the areas were able to meet their quotas because of large sales of bonds to industrial concerns. Mrs. John Leslie Kilcayne, chairman, announces, but inasmuch as a quota is also given for the "E" series, the workers are desirous of bringing this type of sales up to the desired total.

They plan to start down the "home stretch" on Monday, and end the drive successfully as far as "E" bonds are concerned, by July 29th.

Volunteer members of the committee are remaining on the job for the sales period, and hope for increased sales to individuals. Headquarters at the McCrory store will also remain at the service of the public.

APPLE, PEACH CROP PROSPECTS ARE GOOD

Sufficient Help To Harvest The Crops Is One of Main Problems

BUCKS CO. SITUATION

LUMBERVILLE, July 22.—Prospects for fairly large apple and peach crops, according to Edward M. Paxson, the owner of large orchards in this locality, appear to be good, but one of the problems confronting the orchardists, he said, will be that of procuring help to harvest the fruit.

Mr. Paxson, who places much of his fruit in cold storage on his property, at present is adding a 2,000-bushel cold storage unit, and when this is completed, he will have storage space for at least 6,000 bushels of fruit.

The apple harvest is just beginning, and the orchardists are picking the Yellow Transparents now. Picking of peaches, said Mr. Paxson, will begin the first week of next month. At that time the Golden Jubilee, a yellow fruit, will be harvested. The picking of other varieties of peaches and apples will follow.

Although the trees blossomed well, the set of York Imperial apples seems to be poor, and it is expected the yield of this variety will be rather light.

Mr. Paxson and his employees began this morning to apply the last of a series of seven or eight sprays to apple trees. This will be for the prevention of the codling moth and what is known as the common apple scab. Annually, according to Mr. Paxson, seven or eight applications of sprays are required for the apple trees, and five are usually required for the peach trees. The number of applications, he said, depends entirely upon the weather.

Commenting upon the labor situation, Mr. Paxson said last year he employed 30 to 100 persons daily, including school children, during the peach and apple harvest. It is expected he will need this many this season.

WHAT OUR BOYS ARE DOING TO WIN THE WAR

AT A 12TH AAF BASE, July 22.—Sergeant John H. Tomlinson, 214 Walnut street, Bristol, Pa., has served overseas 21 months as engineering clerk with a Bomb Group of B-26 Marauders which President Roosevelt twice cited for "outstanding performance of duty in action."

He is entitled to wear the blue, gold-framed Distinguished Unit ribbon—the only army award worn above the right-hand blouse pocket.

Oldest medium bomb group in the Mediterranean, the Marauders were cited for exceptional bombing accuracy on two occasions: the attack of March 3rd on the Ostense rail yards in Rome and the March 11th bombing of the main Florence rail yards in each case the bomb pattern was so concentrated as to prevent damage to cultural objects near the target.

The citations noted that the accuracy of the Rome raid was achieved despite heavy anti-aircraft fire and that the Florence bombing involved flying "a hazardous over-water route under adverse weather conditions."

THE DEBT

How the United States plans to handle its war debt has not been announced by Governor Dewey or by the administration in Washington. Britain's approach to the problem is clearer.

In Britain the national debt has topped $80,000,000,000 and it is expected to reach $100,000,000,000 before the war ends. At present interest rates, that will entail an annual debt service charge of $2,000,000,000 to $3,000,000,000.

This compares with an anticipated United States debt of approximately $300,000,000,000 and an interest charge of $7,000,000,000.

Since more than half of Britain's debt has been incurred during the war on a short term basis and will mature within the next ten years, the London government expects to maintain a cheap money policy for some time. Cheap money and a high national income are expected to steer Britain past the debt crisis.

In this country no one has spoken plainly about this problem except Vice-President Wallace. Wallace regards the government debt as a blessing in disguise. He says this nation can hold the national income up to $130,000,000,000 annually through the exercise of government controls over business and industry and through continuation of a cheap money policy. Then, he says, the country could service the huge debt and still have more money left over than Americans enjoyed in the boom years of 1928 and 1929.

PRECEDENT

Raymond Moley recalls that no one has mentioned an election precedent established by South Dakota in 1912. He believes it to be relevant in the case of Texas, Mississippi and South Carolina, now threatening to take their electoral votes off the Democratic reservation this year.

In May, 1912, Theodore Roosevelt, Senator La Follette and President Taft ran in the Presidential primary of South Dakota. T. R. won. In June the delegates selected in the South Dakota primary and pledged to T. R. bolted the Republican convention. Later they helped nominate T. R. in the rump convention.

Before the election the South Dakota electors on the Republican ticket announced that they would, if elected, refuse to vote for Taft but would cast the electoral vote of the state for Roosevelt. After their election, they carried out their plan.

Chosen by the voters as Republican electors, they refused to be bound by the nomination of their party.

Names of the candidates for President did not appear on the South Dakota ballot, only the names of the party electors. Therefore the voters could vote only for the electors, and the electors voted as they pleased.

The Nazis will almost be able to boast that in the final days of the war they killed many civilians with buzzbombs.

This Month's STAR RECIPE

By BETTY BARCLAY

Fresh fish require no points. Neither do milk, onion, lemon juice, or eggs. So a fish recipe can be pleasing to our ration book; it gives us a new way to serve our nonpoint fish, and bolsters the no-point, low-point program with a nutritious tasty.

The fish dish that has been chosen as this month's "Star" recipe is unique—it's baked in individual molds, attractive enough for company dinners. Try the recipe below and decide for yourself whether or not we have chosen wisely.

Baked Fish Molds

3 cups Post Toasties, finely crushed
1½ cups milk
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1½ tablespoons chopped chives or minced onion
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1½ teaspoon thyme
1½ teaspoons salt
Dash of pepper
2 cups cooked fish, flaked and chopped
2 eggs, well beaten.
Combine Post Toasties and milk; let stand 10 minutes. Add mayonnaise, parsley, chives, lemon juice, and seasonings and mix thoroughly. Then add fish and eggs and mix well. Turn into well greased molds or custard cups. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 25 to 45 minutes, depending upon size of molds. Serve with mustard sauce, made by adding 1 tablespoon prepared mustard to 2 cups white sauce. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

THE CAPITOL WHIRL

A Digest of Things Political Occurring At Harrisburg

By International News Service
HARRISBURG, July 22—(INS)—The political makeup of the State House of Representatives following the general election November 7 probably will shape Gov. Edward Martin's legislative program and policies for the remainder of his term.

An ambitious postwar program has been advanced by the Martin administration but a rebellious Assembly could force sharp revisions. . . . If President Roosevelt sweeps Pennsylvania in the election, the Democrats in all probability will gain control of the lower house and be in a position to present a legislative and postwar program of their own choosing. . . . The Republicans currently control the House 131 to 76 with one vacancy.

In the Senate, the Democrats have admitted they stand little chance of winning control because most of the seats at stake this year are in counties that rarely stray from the Republican column. . . . Thus, GOP Assembly leaders could pilot measures through the upper chamber but would have to bargain to push any semblance of the administration's program through the House. Democrats, being in the same legislative boat, would be forced to trade. . . . Republicans control the Senate 32 to 17 with one vacancy.

When the first touch of frost nips Pennsylvania, Highway Department officials warily scan weather reports for signs of approaching snow storms and cross their fingers as they hope for a mild winter.

Few Pennsylvania motorists realize the extent of the program the department undertakes to assure the best possible winter driving conditions. . . . Usually, $4,000,000 is earmarked for the program but expenditures depend entirely upon the severity of the winter. . . .

During the winter of 1935-36, the Department spent $5,771,000 to keep highways free of snow and reasonably clear of ice. . . . In 1936-37, expenditures totaled $2,969,000 and the next winter—1937-38—the amount jumped to $3,519,000. . . . In 1938-39, total snowfall was high and $4,894,000 was necessary to assure highway safety and expenses dropped to $4,379,000 in the winter of 1939-40. . . . Winter maintenance cost $4,640,000 in 1940-41 and $3,706,000 in 1941-42 while in 1942-43 the amount was $4,395,000. . . . The last winter cost $3,570,000 for snow removal.

BIGLerville—(INS)—Crist Shank observed his eighty-third birthday anniversary the same as he has spent most of his other birthdays—putting up hay. Despite his advanced age, he works every day on a nearby farm.

BROOKLINE—(INS)—He had to go for days in the same uniform and without a bath to get it, but Capt. Herbert W. Clegg wrote that German beer is the best he's tasted in years. In a fort captured outside of Cherbourg, his company found many cases of beer left by fleeing Nazis.

ROSSI'S FAST BALL ZIPS FLEETWINGS; ALLOWS 10 HITS

American Bridge Nine Wins By the Score of 5 to 1

SUPPORT ROSSI WELL
Budd Handles 14 Chances Without An Error

Al Rossi's fast ball zipped by the Fleetwings batters last evening on the Bristol high school field as the American Steel nine moved closer to first place in the Trenton Industrial League by beating the Wingwings, 5-1.

Although solved for 10 hits, Rossi put the pressure on in the pinches and kept the localites away from the plate in all frames with the exception of the seventh when a walk to DeRisi and hits by Leone and Dougherty scored the lone tally.

Rossi was aided by wonderful fielding both on the part of Budd and Pete Rossi, the keystone combination. Budd handled fourteen chances without an error while in five chances P. Rossi made one bobbie. The pair also killed two attempted Fleetwings' rallies with fast double-plays.

"Jim" Plunkett, catcher of the visitors, opened the second inning with a home run to left field and before the frame was over, the second run came over on hits by P. Rossi, Gledlin, and A. Rossi. McGowan drove in two runs in the third with a single to left while a hit by Gledlin, an error and Mike Rossi's single scored the final tally.

VOLTZ LOSES HOPE OF FINISHING IN THE LEAGUE PLAYOFFS

Bristol Nine Loses To The Eastern Aircraft in Game On Wetzel's Field

FINAL SCORE IS 9 TO 1
Slants of Tony Rubino Too Much For The Bristol Boys

TRENTON, N. J., July 22.—The Voltz-Texaco team's hopes of finishing in the play-offs of the Trenton Industrial League received a jolt last evening when the Eastern Aircraft nine downed the gasoleers, 9-1, on Wetzel field.

The slants of Tony Rubino was too much for the Bristol boys as he held them to five scattered bingles. The only marker scored by the Voltz-men was the result of an error by Gioacchino.

Hal Shackleton did the burling for the losers and was touched for nine hits. Hal started off on the wrong foot when the Eastern team bunched, hits, errors, and walks for a quartet of tallies in the first inning.

Conglis led the hitters of the contest by getting three out of four while in two official trips, Rubino had two for two. Mickey Mandio robbed Gioacchino of an extra base hit in the sixth when he made a sensational catch of his bid for a hit.

clared that no blood, except that of the conspirators was shed. Reports from Stockholm, however, said that many hundreds of Germany's best officers were executed in the purge ordered by Hitler and Gestapo chief Heinrich Himmler.

The greatest centers of unrest, according to a dispatch to the London News Chronicle, were in Eastern Germany and East Prussia where previous accounts said the Germans were panicked by the swift advance of Soviet armies toward the frontier.

Rich In Vitamins

Vitamin C counteracts fatigue. It is rapidly lost from body tissues during high temperatures. The body does not store this vitamin. For these reasons, the drinking of beverages such as lemonade, which increases the vitamin C intake, is an excellent warm weather health habit. The whole grain oats in the oatmeal cookies furnish vitamin B, proteins, phosphorus and iron, all important food elements.

If there are children at your house, be sure to keep a well-filled lemon bowl and a well-stocked cookie jar, where small hands can easily get these healthful foods. Teach small daughter to make her own lemonade, small son, too. Daughter may even make the Lemon Oatmeal Cookies, recipe for which is simple and which follows.

The older members of your family will also like these easy-to-make-and-serve refreshments. Big brother and sister find that a glass of lemonade and a few oatmeal cookies fit in just right after a game of tennis, a swim or a dance.

To Make Lemonade
Allow 1 lemon for each person to be served. Extract juice and sweeten to taste with sugar or honey. Add chilled water or water and ice to fill a tall glass. Garnish, if liked, with mint, cherries or berries.

New Way To Make Lemonade
Another easy-to-serve lemonade idea is to squeeze enough lemon juice for several days. Sweeten this to taste and keep in a covered glass jar in the refrigerator. When you want lemonade, pour sweetened juice into a glass, add chilled water or water and ice and your healthful drink is ready to serve.

Lemon Oatmeal Cookies
Brown sugar and lemon juice and peel give special flavor to these cookies. You'll want to make a batch now and again for a boy in camp.

1 cup shortening
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
2 cups quick or regular, uncooked rolled oats

Cream shortening, add sugars gradually and cream well. Beat in egg until light and fluffy, add lemon peel and juice. Sift flour, salt and soda together; add with rolled oats to creamed mixture. Drop from teaspoon onto greased baking sheet and bake in moderately hot oven (375° F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 3 dozen cookies.

There are a lot of Monday morning political quarterbacks roaming Chicago today trying to explain Wallace's defeat when he appeared to be a favorite in the convention and actually led on the first roll call. It is not sufficient to say that Truman's managers held back some votes because Wallace's managers did that too. Both gained on the second ballot and Truman was far from a winner when that roll call ended.

On the first ballot, Wallace had 429½ while Truman had 319½. At the end of the second roll call, Wallace had 460½ while Truman had 409 but seven states had passed. When these seven voted, Wallace had 473 and Truman 479. Then Senator John H. Bankhead, of Alabama, withdrew and that state gave Truman 22 more votes for a total of 501. That seemed to finish the roll call for certain.

But the chairman of the Maine delegation then arose and announced that his state would like to change its vote. He did so, changing the original tally of 4 votes for Wallace and six for Truman to one for Wallace and nine for Truman. That left the totals: Wallace 479 and Truman 504.

Maine's action was like a thunderbolt preceding a cloudburst. Perhaps it really was the "two lights in Boston tower" because an avalanche of switches followed. Paul V. McNutt, of Indiana, retired and his votes went to Truman, along with four of Wallace's in that state. Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, of Wyoming, retired and eight more went to Truman. The District of Columbia, New York with 93 of its 96, Ohio with 45 of its 52 and finally West Virginia slid into Truman's column and he was the winner.

The final toll was Truman, 1,071; Wallace, 66; Gov. Prentice Cooper, of Tennessee, 26; William O. Douglas, of Connecticut, 4, and 6 delegates were recorded absent.

The trouble with the big clown was that, right there in the ring, against the champion, in a fight for the title, he developed a sudden admiration for the champion's style and tried to adopt it impromptu against a slippery master who had invented and practised those tricks to perfection.

Toward the end, therefore, when Roosevelt had studied him out, the champion could anticipate him and the customers saw an amazing illusion as of the champion flitting his own image in a big mirror. As time went on, the clientele had no great regret, for they reckoned that even had the challenger won they would have had for a new champion only an imitation of the old one.

Is this new young fellow any good? Can he punch? Is he fast? Is he smart? Is he game?

A Lemonade Party for Young and Old

By BETTY BARCLAY

On warm summer afternoons, the children would ask Mammy Lou, "May we have a lemonade party?" So Mammy Lou would bring out a big bowl of lemons. Then while the boys cracked ice, the girls squeezed lemons and mixed the juice with sugar and water.

When each child had a tall, frosty glass of lemonade, mint garnished, there was a raid on the cookie jar, for some of Mammy Lou's famous oatmeal cookies.

The family doctor of Mammy Lou's "chillun" never heard of vitamins but he said that this food and drink combination was good for youngsters. Modern food experts also say that these foods are good for growing bodies, but they explain that the lemonade provides vitamin C, while the oatmeal cookies are rich in vitamin B.
